

| Chapter 1                                                                                                                                                                             | Yes/No | Personal Remarks. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|-------------------|
| Is the background capturing, the global, regional and local perspectives of my study                                                                                                  |        |                   |
| Is the background capturing the sector wide perspectives on the development of the subject matter                                                                                     |        |                   |
| Is the background highlighting my key variables of the study? As applied in the study                                                                                                 |        |                   |
| Is the institution or sector of study described in the background and its operations of the key variables                                                                             |        |                   |
| Is other scholars and researchers' perspectives covered in the background as introduction and not literature review                                                                   |        |                   |
| Is the background when situated covering the subject matter from global to regional and local perspective with clear sections                                                         |        |                   |
| Is the problem appropriate for qualitative/quantitative inquiry?                                                                                                                      |        |                   |
| Is the problem situated within the literature? That is, is the literature used to place the problem within a context?                                                                 |        |                   |
| Is the problem clearly and unambiguously stated?                                                                                                                                      |        |                   |
| Is the problem narrow in scope?                                                                                                                                                       |        |                   |
| Is the purpose clearly stated? Supported with empirical evidenced and well cited within the corpus of literature                                                                      |        |                   |
| Are the research questions clearly focused or too broad? And are in sync with the research objectives                                                                                 |        |                   |
| Are the research questions answerable and able to shed light on the problem?                                                                                                          |        |                   |
| Is there strong alignment among problem, purpose, and research questions?                                                                                                             |        |                   |
| Is the research approach appropriate and feasible?                                                                                                                                    |        |                   |
| Is the researcher's perspective and relationship to the problem discussed? Citing sources                                                                                             |        |                   |
| Are the researcher's assumptions and biases revealed and explained?                                                                                                                   |        |                   |
| Is there a well-thought-out rationale and justification for the study?                                                                                                                |        |                   |
| Is a convincing argument explicitly or implicitly made for the importance or significance of this research? Is it clear how it will contribute to the knowledge base and/or practice? |        |                   |
| Does the chapter conclude with definitions and/or explanations of the key terms used in the study?                                                                                    |        |                   |
| that do not have a commonly understood meaning. If these are definitions, have you included authoritative sources to support these definitions?                                       |        |                   |
| Is your significance of the study section mirroring other works of Strathmore in structure                                                                                            |        |                   |
| have you checked for university and/or program-related differences regarding the content and structure of chapter 1?                                                                  |        |                   |
| Have you checked for institutional and/or program-related differences regarding the appropriate sections of chapter one?                                                              |        |                   |

|                                                                                                                                                                                           |  |  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|--|
| Are all section well numbered with clear levels e.g. 1.2, 1.2.1, 1.2.1.1 etc                                                                                                              |  |  |
| Are the paragraphs well formulated and complete in sense and form not 3-line sentences                                                                                                    |  |  |
| The use of qualitative/ quantitative language and terminology? Depending on what sort of study you ae doing – focus on your research questions and objectives phrasing and key verbs used |  |  |
| Is all the literature used referenced accordingly in APA style?                                                                                                                           |  |  |
| Are all the references complete in context and form in APA Style? You do not have paragraphs without citation                                                                             |  |  |